

Client requests access and permissions via SDK and Login Dialog

User authenticates and approves permissions

Access token is returned to client

